THANK YOU! As you know, the strength and diversity of a Grossmont College student's education extends far beyond the classroom into the many extracurricular opportunities that are available on campus. An important component to leadership development for our students is the mentorship that occurs when students work alongside faculty and staff in exploring a wide range of ideas and perspectives.

Before you agree to serve, please review the following guidelines for advising a student organization at Grossmont College:

- Advisors should become sufficiently knowledgeable of the purpose and activities of the organization so as to advise the members of their actions and the possible consequences of illegal or irresponsible behavior in accordance with the District's Student Conduct Procedures handbook.
- Advisors have the primary responsibility for understanding, interpreting, and applying district and campus rules and regulations as they apply to organizational programs and scheduled activities.
- Advisors should provide assistance for assessment and constructive review of programs and funding proposals for student programmers.
- Advisors should become familiar with the organization's finances and their account at the Student Activities Office. Advisors should learn how the Student Activities Office operates in regard to these trust accounts, and the disbursement of funds.
- When sponsoring an off campus activity, advisors are to be familiar with campus policies/procedures regarding student travel. Procedures and forms are supplied by the Student Affairs Office.
- Advisors must attend all official student organization meetings and student organization events both on and off campus. Meetings are not considered official unless an advisor or a designated substitute is present.
