FIVE POPULAR GROSSMONT COLLEGE GENERAL EDUCATION CREDIT CLASSES OFFERED AT HELIX HIGH SCHOOL

El Cajon – Area residents are invited to take Grossmont College classes beginning in January at Helix High School in La Mesa. Five general education full credit courses are included in the class line up, ranging from Art Appreciation (Art 100) to Spanish III (Spanish 220.) The classes are open to adults as well as to high school students who have completed their sophomore year in high school and who have the permission of their parent(s) and high school counselor or advisor. (College enrollment fees are waived for high school students in the Grossmont Union High School District when they are co-enrolled at Grossmont College.)

Potential students may apply at the Grossmont College website www.grossmont.edu or in person at the Grossmont College Admissions and Records Office beginning January 3.

Classes include:

- Art 100 (Art Appreciation) Section 3191, 3 units, evening;
- Math 103 (Intermediate Algebra) Section 3191) Section 6143, 3 units, evening;
- Political Science 135 (Model United Nations) Section 7087, 1 unit, afternoon

NOTE: This is a short-term class, beginning January 9 through February 14.

- Spanish 220 (Spanish III) Section 7555, 5 units, afternoon
- Spanish 220 (Spanish III) Section 7562, 5 units, evening

Adult students who are California residents will pay new lower enrollment fees, just $20 per unit. College enrollment fees are waived for current Grossmont Union High School District students who have completed their sophomore year and who complete a “High School/Community College Authorization Form” and who have approval of a parent and a high school counselor or principal. All students must apply to Grossmont College and register for the college class(es).

According to Dr. Dean C. Colli, Grossmont College interim president, “We are exceptionally pleased to bring college courses into our community. We appreciate the cooperation of Helix High School in providing classroom space, and hope adults as well as high school juniors and senior students will take advantage of the added convenience provided with the selection of popular general education classes.”

Helix High School is located at 7323 University Avenue, La Mesa. Grossmont College is located at I-125 at 8800 Grossmont College Drive, El Cajon. Driving directions to the College are available at www.grossmont.edu.
