ASGC Director of Publicity

“My name is Jade Medina, and I am entering my fifth year at Grossmont College. I have been an FYE peer mentor for three years, which has given me lots of experience with the school’s community, resources and programs, and most importantly, advocating for students. I am passionate about leading events on campus, with an emphasis on cultural and social events that are tailored to what the students want. I hope to build a stronger community where each student feels like they really belong.”
