I'm currently serving as Director of Publicity and I'm ready to keep building on what I've started. As a Film Production major, I know how to create content that actually connects with students. Outside of school, I'm always filming, editing, and organizing events with my friends, so I have real experience promoting and bringing people together. I also work closely with the Director of Campus Activities to help plan events, which has strengthened my leadership and teamwork. I know I can continue to promote our campus in a creative, consistent, and impactful way.
