As a Black woman at Grossmont College, I understand the importance of representation, inclusion, and making sure every student's voice is heard. I want to serve as Vice President to advocate for students from all backgrounds and help create a campus where everyone feels supported and valued. I am passionate about building community, improving communication between students and leadership, and supporting initiatives that promote academic success and opportunity. I will listen, lead with integrity, and work hard to represent the diverse student body of Grossmont College. It would be an honor to serve and uplift our campus community.
