My name is Jacob Wooten and I am interested in running for ASGC to give back to the school which has supported me for years. I served all four years of high school in student government, ran the weekly student fundraiser, worked as the quality inspector at a manufacturing facility, then in a project management role where I overhauled inefficient processes, managed the department workforce, and supported two major schedule recoveries. Currently I study business, am the co-captain of the Grossmont Ethics Bowl team, and will be President of the Philosophy Symposium next year.
