History of the College

It was a college starting from scratch – no name, no firm location and no construction funding. But from the moment the idea was born, Grossmont College promised to become one of the county’s leading higher education institutions. Following several years of study involving both lay and educational groups, the voters of the area approved the formation of the Grossmont Junior College District in an election held Nov. 8, 1960. The first official organizational meeting of the Grossmont Junior College Governing Board occurred July 1, 1961. With an opening enrollment of 1,538, the first college classes convened Sept. 11, 1961, on the Monte Vista High School campus in Spring Valley.

In an election held Sept. 18, 1962, voters approved a $7.5 million facilities bond. The Governing Board moved to purchase a 135-acre site located on a scenic mesa in the Fletcher Hills area adjacent to the cities of El Cajon and La Mesa. Ground was broken for the new campus in December 1963. Even before construction was completed, the administrative offices were moved to the new campus and classes opened Sept. 14, 1964. The Grossmont College campus was officially dedicated Dec. 12, 1964.

The first increment of the campus was planned to accommodate an enrollment of 2,500 daytime students, with the completed campus expected to serve 4,800 students. On Oct. 18, 1965, a second bond election for $3.5 million was passed by area voters, making it possible to complete the master plan. New facilities were completed Sept. 25, 1967.

In 1970, state legislation changed the term “junior college” in California codes to “community college.” On Jan. 6, 1971, the San Diego County Board of Education approved a petition from the Grossmont Junior College District to change its designation to the Grossmont Community College District. On March 5, 1985, the Governing Board officially changed the name of the district to the Grossmont-Cuyamaca Community College District (GCCCD) to reflect the establishment of Cuyamaca College.

Proposition R, the district’s $202 million facilities bond measure, was approved in 2002, allowing the construction of the Learning and Technology Resource Center, the Science Laboratory Building, the Digital Arts and Sculpture Building Complex, the Health and Sciences Complex, and a multi-story parking structure. The college’s new student center, Griffin Center, and the Student Services and Administrative Building opened in spring 2012.

In 2013, East County voters approved Proposition V, which made it possible to renovate or replace overcrowded and outdated facilities; upgrade campus technology; build the new Performing and Visual Arts Center; improve safety, security, and access for people with disabilities; build a modern and larger Student Veterans Center; and create a new math and science building with new classrooms and student-serving spaces.

Today, Grossmont College is transforming lives through education by offering more than 150 degree and certificate programs, including university transfer and career education courses. Grossmont College also offers a full range of student activities and clubs, as well as 17 intercollegiate athletic teams.

The Grossmont-Cuyamaca Community College District is an economic engine that is the largest provider of higher education and job training in the East County.

The total number of degrees and certificates awarded in 2025-2026 is 4,183.

The Grossmont College Seal

The seal of Grossmont College is used on official academic documents. It includes the Griffin symbol, which is the half-eagle, half-lion of Greek mythology, combining their qualities of courage, strength, and swiftness. The Griffin was charged with guarding the treasures of the ancient world. The three Greek words are Tharros, Dynamis, and Philosophia, which means courage, strength, and love of wisdom.

Degrees and Certificates Granted

Granting of the associate in arts degree or the associate in science degree to a student indicates successful completion of basic and general educational requirements plus evidence of proficiency in a specialized field. In addition, a certificate of achievement is available to those who have attained well-defined levels of skill and knowledge in designated areas. As a member of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges and the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges, certain courses taken at Grossmont College are accepted on transfer by the University of California, all California State Universities, and by most public and private four-year colleges and universities throughout the United States.

Vision

Along with ensuring student success, Grossmont College continues to advance our antiracism and equity work as we venture further into the 21st century.*

We work collaboratively to cultivate an equitable student-centered learning environment, and we hold ourselves accountable for improving student outcomes through ongoing assessment, evaluation, and data-informed decision making. ### Dr. Evan Wirig Media Communications

As a full-time faculty member in the Media Communications Department at Grossmont College since 1997, Dr. Evan Wirig has made exceptional contributions to his discipline through a career marked by professionalism, innovation, leadership, and scholarly engagement. Known for his strong moral convictions, Dr. Wirig upholds the highest ethical standards in both his personal and professional life. His integrity shines especially in difficult situations, where his commitment to doing what's right sets a powerful example.

Colleagues consistently note his thoughtful insights and ability to consider multiple perspectives. He contributes more than ideas—he elevates dialogue through strategic thinking and a sincere drive to find ethical, effective solutions. His inquisitive nature leads him to ask tough questions and engage in meaningful discourse, always with respect and an eye toward progress.

Dr. Wirig has extended the college's impact into the broader community through meaningful service, outreach, and advocacy in his field. His efforts included producing outreach materials, coordinating public-facing events like Career Days and Broadcast Boot Camps, and leading departmental presentations at local community functions—all aimed at connecting Grossmont's mission to the surrounding region.

As chair of the MCOM department for over 18 years, he led curriculum reform, developed new outreach materials, coordinated industry partnerships, and mentored both full- and part-time faculty. His leadership extended to chairing the Council of Chairs and Coordinators twice, which positioned him to help shape long-term strategic goals and instructional planning across the college.

Dr. Wirig has also been an active and impactful member of numerous high-level committees, including Curriculum, Planning & Budget, Strategic Enrollment Management, Institutional Effectiveness, Equal Employment Opportunity, and Career Workforce Development, as well as Academic Senate. He chaired the Academic Rank Committee and co-chaired the Marketing and Recruitment Committee, showing a strong commitment to both governance and student recruitment.

Dr. Wirig's collaborative, solutions-oriented leadership style has helped foster a more inclusive and forward-thinking campus culture. His sustained commitment to Grossmont's mission and his deep engagement beyond his assigned duties make him a standout contributor to the college's ongoing success.

His leadership within the BEA's Two-Year/Small College Division, where he served as the National Division Chair, significantly increased membership and cross-institutional collaboration, earning recognition across academic and vocational sectors. He has also earned national recognition in faculty audio and multimedia production competitions and was awarded Grossmont College's Outstanding Divisional Faculty Award and multiple Kudos Awards for excellence in teaching and service.

In every role, Dr. Wirig demonstrates what it means to be a distinguished faculty member: intellectually rigorous, ethically grounded, and genuinely committed to student success, Grossmont College and the East County community.

2025-2026 Part-Time Distinguished Faculty Honoree

James Gappy Computer Science Information Systems

James Gappy is an award-winning educator and dedicated faculty member at Grossmont College, where he has built a reputation for excellence in teaching, collaboration, and student support. A recipient of both the Faculty Excellence Award and the Distinguished Faculty Award, Gappy is recognized for his commitment to high-quality instruction and meaningful contributions to his academic community.

At Grossmont College, Gappy has taught a range of computer science and information systems courses, including Java, Python, Data Structures, and Principles of Information Systems. His passion for teaching is reflected not only in the classroom but also in the extensive digital resources he has developed. Over the years, he has created a library of nearly 300 lecture videos covering topics such as programming, databases, and software development. These materials have not only enhanced learning for his own students but have also been adopted by fellow faculty, extending their impact across a broader student population.

Beyond his teaching responsibilities, Gappy is an active and supportive colleague. He has assisted faculty with implementing ZyBooks and has shared insights from his experience as a content author, helping others integrate effective instructional tools into their courses. His willingness to collaborate and mentor peers contributes to a strong and innovative teaching environment within the department.

Gappy is also deeply engaged in campus life. He values the sense of community at Grossmont College and actively participates in departmental activities, including involvement with the Computer Science Organization and regular attendance at CSIS social events. These interactions, whether professional or informal, reflect his belief that connection and collaboration are essential to a thriving academic environment.

He credits much of his positive experience to the leadership of department chair Hau Nguyen and the support of his colleagues, whose collaboration and camaraderie have helped shape a welcoming and dynamic workplace. Grateful for the recognition he has received, Gappy remains committed to fostering student success and contributing to the continued growth of the Grossmont College community.

Commencement Speaker

James Jacob Magaña

James Jacob Magaña Sr. is a graduating Geography student at Grossmont College whose studies focus on environmental sustainability, Indigenous stewardship, environmental justice, and community resilience. As a product of systemic colonialism, he was raised in City Heights among multicultural communities and working-class families, where he witnessed both hardship and strength growing up. Those experiences shaped his deep commitment to advocacy, healing, collective responsibility, and uplifting historically underserved neighborhoods.

As a proud first-generation college student, multi-skilled tradesman, and full-time father to James Jr. and Rosemary, Magaña carries deep pride in his Indigenous heritage. He views higher education not just as a path for personal growth, but as a profound responsibility to future generations and a tool to break generational cycles.

Magaña has balanced his studies with hands-on work in construction, arboriculture, and environmental restoration. Through impactful fieldwork and internships with the City of San Diego, Tree San Diego, and the Earth Science Department, he has studied urban ecology and GIS mapping. Deeply respectful of the land, Magaña emphasizes the importance of recognizing that Kumeyaay land was never ceded, advocating for greater accountability and understanding toward Indigenous communities and the environment.

At Grossmont and Cuyamaca colleges, Magaña found mentorship, belonging, and purpose through many programs and clubs. He credits mentors and professors, including Octavio Leal, Yohany Batalona, Teyana Viscarra, Michelle Odom, Tim Cliffe, Rey Garcia, and Norm Sanders, for guiding him academically, culturally, and personally. He also honors the memory of Carroll Dean Breshears, John Garcia, and Ruben Magaña.

Beyond the classroom, Magaña is active in Indigenous activism, ceremony, and community mentorship. He works closely with Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women as a Prayer Runner and Red Teepee carrier with The Way of the Sacred Mountain. He has also traveled to Cuba in solidarity with Hands Off Cuba to support medical supply efforts and study community resilience.

Following graduation, Magaña plans to transfer to San Diego State University to pursue a degree in sustainability, with the ultimate goal of completing doctoral studies. He aims to combine environmental science, construction knowledge, and Indigenous perspectives to help communities adapt to a rapidly changing world while reconnecting with ancestral ways of living.

“True change is going to take work from all of us,” Magaña says. “But globally, internationally, together, we can do this.”

Associated Students of Grossmont College (ASGC)

MISSION STATEMENT: The ASGC strives to represent the interests and concerns of all Grossmont College students through improving the quality of campus life, promoting awareness of issues affecting students, and providing philanthropic support that strengthens partnerships within the campus community.

HISTORICAL OVERVIEW: The ASGC was created July 1, 1961, to serve the students of Grossmont College. Early in the college's existence, the ASGC selected the college colors (green and gold) and mascot (griffin), and established student government. The ASGC was instrumental in the building and operating of the bookstore, financing scholarships to countless students, providing needed equipment and technologies campuswide, and launching the district's phone-in registration system. In recent years, the ASGC supported the Prop. R facilities bond issue and funded the major portion of the resurfacing of the running track.

The ASGC continues to be the source through which Grossmont College students expand their experiences far beyond what they obtain from classroom instruction alone.
