Transforming Lives Through Education

History of the College

It was a college starting from scratch – no name, no firm location and no construction funding. But from the moment the idea was born, Grossmont College promised to become one of the county’s leading higher education institutions. Following several years of study involving both lay and educational groups, the voters of the area approved the formation of the Grossmont Junior College District in an election held Nov. 8, 1960. The first official organizational meeting of the Grossmont Junior College Governing Board occurred July 1, 1961. With an opening enrollment of 1,538, the first college classes convened Sept. 11, 1961, on the Monte Vista High School campus in Spring Valley.

In an election held Sept. 18, 1962, voters approved a $7.5 million facilities bond. The Governing Board moved to purchase a 135-acre site located on a scenic mesa in the Fletcher Hills area adjacent to the cities of El Cajon and La Mesa. Ground was broken for the new campus in December 1963. Even before construction was completed, the administrative offices were moved to the new campus and classes opened Sept. 14, 1964. The Grossmont College campus was officially dedicated Dec. 12, 1964.

The first increment of the campus was planned to accommodate an enrollment of 2,500 daytime students, with the completed campus expected to serve 4,800 students. On Oct. 18, 1965, a second bond election for $3.5 million was passed by area voters, making it possible to complete the master plan. New facilities were completed Sept. 25, 1967.

In 1970, state legislation changed the term “junior college” in California codes to “community college.” On Jan. 6, 1971, the San Diego County Board of Education approved a petition from the Grossmont Junior College District to change its designation to the Grossmont Community College District. On March 5, 1985, the Governing Board officially changed the name of the district to the Grossmont-Cuyamaca Community College District (GCCCD) to reflect the establishment of Cuyamaca College.

Proposition R, the district’s $202 million facilities bond measure, was approved in 2002, allowing the construction of the Learning and Technology Resource Center, the Science Laboratory Building, the Digital Arts and Sculpture Building Complex, the Health and Sciences Complex, and a multi-story parking structure. The college’s new student center, Griffin Center, and the Student Services and Administrative Building opened in spring 2012.

In 2013, East County voters approved Proposition V, GCCCD’s $398 million bond measure, which will make it possible to renovate or replace aging, overcrowded facilities; modernize college technology; improve safety, security, and access for disabled students; and create a Veterans Support Center and an East County Workforce Solutions Training Center.

Today, Grossmont College is transforming lives through education by offering more than 150 degree and certificate programs, including university transfer and career education courses. Grossmont College also offers a full range of student activities and clubs, as well as 17 intercollegiate athletic teams.

Enrollment has remained steady at a level of more than 16,000 students since the mid-1970s, rising to 17,484 students in 1991 and 18,241 students in 2002. In fall 2009, enrollment exceeded 20,000 students for the first time with 20,362 students, and increased to the highest level ever in spring 2010 with 20,793 students.

The total number of degrees and certificates awarded in 2020-2021 is 3,687.

The Grossmont College Seal

The seal of Grossmont College is used on official academic documents. It includes the Griffin symbol, which is the half-eagle, half-lion of Greek mythology, combining their qualities of courage, strength, and swiftness. The Griffin was charged with guarding the treasures of the ancient world. The three Greek words are Tharros, Dynamis, and Philosophia, which means courage, strength, and love of wisdom.

Degrees and Certificates Granted

Granting of the associate in arts degree or the associate in science degree to a student indicates successful completion of basic and general educational requirements plus evidence of proficiency in a specialized field. In addition, a certificate of achievement is available to those who have attained well-defined levels of skill and knowledge in designated areas. As a member of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges and the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges, certain courses taken at Grossmont College are accepted on transfer by the University of California, all California State Universities, and by most public and private four-year colleges and universities throughout the United States.

Sue Gonda History

Retired professor emeritus Dr. Sue Gonda began her career in the 1970s as a secretary. In Detroit where she grew up, she worked for law firms and, after moving to San Diego, at a medical center. Law and medicine inspired her to enroll at San Diego State University at age 28, completing a bachelor's degree in history in 1990.

Gonda fell in love with women's history, seeing women as important history makers and builders of the country's diverse communities. In her University of California Los Angeles doctoral studies, she pursued an original mix of legal and medical theories about women and how they informed ideas about consensual sex, rape, seduction, and women's worth. She researched and published about 19th-Century San Diego divorce cases, beginning a lifelong pursuit of both national and local history. Her theatre background (her first love) meshed with her love of teaching. She began teaching full-time at Grossmont College in her 40s, before the ink on her doctoral diploma was dry.

At Grossmont College, Gonda became co-chair of the Curriculum Committee and served in the Academic Senate as an officer and President. She chaired the History Department and was Coordinator of the Cross-Cultural Studies Program (soon to be renamed Ethnic, Gender, and Social Justice Studies). She aimed to make the department central to campus life and student equity – particularly for its underserved students of color.

Gonda became advisor for a new women's club – the American Association of University Women – and brought SafeZones to campus as advisor of the Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity Club for lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and queer (LGBTQ+) students. SafeZones trains LGBTQ+ allies to create a campus that is welcoming and inclusive for all LGBTQ+ people. The AAUW club produced Women's History Month programming and feminist club education.

In 22 years at Grossmont College, Gonda won teaching and leadership awards and has appeared on radio, television, and in the press about feminist and LGBTQ+ issues.

Gonda has been a feminist activist through the Women's Museum of California, where she served as president for several years, co-founded the San Diego County Women's Hall of Fame in 2002, where she oversaw programming, exhibits, archival collections and made community presentations. She continues this work on the board of directors today.

Gonda lives with her spouse of 27 years, Dr. Susan Cayleff, and deeply appreciates receiving the Distinguished Faculty Award as a testament that by doing the things she loved, she made a difference.

2020-2021 Full-Time Distinguished Faculty Honoree

Craig Milgrim Biology

Retired professor emeritus Craig Milgrim began his teaching career at a private boarding school for dyslexic students in New England, and eventually pursued a master's degree in molecular genetics at the University of Vermont, where he was awarded a teaching fellowship. While there, Milgrim came out of the closet as a gay man, experiencing the joy and challenges of living as his authentic self. After graduating in 1989 and after 7 years in cold New England, he relocated to Phoenix, Ariz., to be closer to family.

Upon arrival, Milgrim was hired by a private technical college in Los Angeles and spent several years working in educational administration, while teaching biology as an adjunct professor at Maricopa County Community Colleges and Arizona State University. In 1993, he was hired by Grossmont College to teach and develop a cell/molecular biology program.

Milgrim joined a group of colleagues focused on increasing diversity and student success, but he was not publicly out on campus since identifying as lesbian, gay, bisexual or transgender (LGBTQ+) was not widely accepted. Due to a case of mistaken identity between Milgrim and a colleague who had been hired at the same time, Milgrim came out to the then-Biology Department chair to quash the rumors. He later helped students form an LGBTQ+ student organization that continues today.

During his early years at Grossmont College, Milgrim brought his home computer into the office and joined colleagues in expanding the use of technology on campus. He also introduced biotechnology techniques to the Biology Department, including writing a laboratory manual that combined skills from his graduate training and teaching experiences with input from biotech industry partners.

In 2006, he was asked to serve as Department Chair, but he knew he didn't enjoy administrative work and instead proposed a co-chair partnership. Along with his co-chairs, classified professionals, and faculty, they modernized procedures, implemented collaborative planning, and increased the department's budget. Students benefitted from modernized equipment, expanded participation opportunities, and computer-based learning.

Milgrim played a role in establishing the American Federation of Teachers as the exclusive bargaining unit representative of Grossmont-Cuyamaca Community College District faculty. In 2018, AFT recruited Milgrim to run for a seat on the San Diego Community College Board of Trustees. Upon election, he became the first openly gay person on the SDCCD board. In retirement, Milgrim continues to be a voice for students and utilizes his experience to better the lives of the people of the city he calls home.

Student Speaker

Melissa Shields

Melissa Shields is proof that all things are possible for those who believe in themselves, especially when they work hard and get the support they need to succeed.

At age 53, Shields is a first-generation, African American college graduate. But she didn't always have the confidence in her academic abilities as she does today. As a young adult, Shields believed that she was unintelligent. After her parents' divorce, she dropped out of high school at 18. Then, life happened, and she became a wife and mom. As her children grew up, she realized that she had a limited ability to assist them with their homework. She was also embarrassed and ashamed to tell her children that she had not graduated high school.

But when she was 47, she realized that she had undervalued her own gifts and talents. She also recognized that what held her back was her own lack of belief in herself and her ability to achieve an education. So, she decided to let go of her secret and tell her children the truth. She subsequently enrolled in adult school to earn her General Equivalency Degree (GED), and she passed her language, social studies and science subjects in a three-month span. Unfortunately, her problem subject was mathematics, and she failed the exam three times in a two-year span. But she persevered and finally passed.

After earning her GED, she enrolled at Grossmont College where she "absolutely fell in love with the school." Of course, like many students, she struggled in the beginning with the transition of juggling her life responsibilities as a wife and mom, with her new responsibilities as a full-time student. Again, she persevered, thanks to her family support system and her professors.

Throughout her time at community college, Shields has had her ups and downs, from appearing on the President's List for a 4.0 GPA to the quick shift to online classes when the COVID-19 pandemic began. But she never gave up.

"When Covid-19 hit right in the beginning of my statistics class, I panicked and freaked out because I just didn't think I could do it," Shields said. "But through it all, with prayer, hard work, dedication, and reliance on all of the support systems our school has in place, I have accomplished my goal."

Shields graduates from Grossmont College with an associate's degree in wellness and self-development. She plans to transfer to San Diego State University this fall to pursue a bachelor's degree in Africana Studies, and hopes to later earn a master's degree in counseling.

Associated Students of Grossmont College (ASGC)

MISSION STATEMENT: The ASGC strives to represent the interests and concerns of all Grossmont College students through improving the quality of campus life, promoting awareness of issues affecting students, and providing philanthropic support that strengthens partnerships within the campus community.

HISTORICAL OVERVIEW: The ASGC was created July 1, 1961, to serve the students of Grossmont College. Early in the college's existence, the ASGC selected the college colors (green and gold) and mascot (griffin), and established student government. The ASGC was instrumental in the building and operating of the bookstore, financing scholarships to countless students, providing needed equipment and technologies campuswide, and launching the district's phone-in registration system. In recent years, the ASGC supported the Prop. R facilities bond issue and funded the major portion of the resurfacing of the running track.

The ASGC continues to be the source through which Grossmont College students expand their experiences far beyond what they obtain from classroom instruction alone.
